Endura Higher Strength Tint Bases

The changes made to new TBs will provide applicators with better hiding colors

The new formulation will replace Endura's current tint base formulation and the product will have new stickers will be on the both sides of the can....see pics to the left

F.A.Q

Q: Why are the tint bases being reformulated?

A: Endura is continually striving to offer our customers the best products possible; the new higher strength tint bases will provide better hiding for Endura colors.

Q: Will this change how we make formulas?

A: Yes, when making Endura formulas with the new higher strength TB01 the old color and pearl tint bases in the formula will need to be adjusted to keep the correct ratios. (this does not affect clear, flop or UV additives)

To keep the formula ratio correct you will need to multiply all old (non-higher strength) tint bases in a formula by 1.24

Example #1 - CLR11816
TB-01 WHITE	0.95000	HIGHER STRENGTH	0.95000
TB-05 YELLOW	0.00280	STANDARD (x 1.24)	0.00347
TB-13 YELLOW	0.01200	STANDARD (x 1.24)	0.01488
TB-30 VIOLET	0.00030	STANDARD (x 1.24)	0.00037
TB-31 BLUE	0.00020	STANDARD (x 1.24)	0.00025
TB-160 BLACK	0.00440	STANDARD (x 1.24)	0.00546
Example #2 - CLR11816
TB-01 WHITE	0.95000	HIGHER STRENGTH	0.95000
TB-05 YELLOW	0.00280	HIGHER STRENGTH	0.00280
TB-13 YELLOW	0.01200	STANDARD (x 1.24)	0.01488
TB-30 VIOLET	0.00030	HIGHER STRENGTH	0.00030
TB-31 BLUE	0.00020	STANDARD (x 1.24)	0.00025
TB-160 BLACK	0.00440	STANDARD (x 1.24)	0.00546

As other tint bases are reformulated into higher strength versions they will be released with a sticker to identify them as the new higher strength version (see left). Tint bases with the sticker will be higher strength and will not need to be adjusted when adding them to formulas
